

ABSTRACT

A method of creating a tradable security based on the prospective income of a performer includes defining an asset value based on the prospective income of the performer, the tradable security value based on the asset value. The method also includes obtaining an agreement from the performer to create a repayment obligation based on a portion of an income stream that corresponds to the asset value. Thereafter, a first account is created and payments toward the repayment obligation are received into the first account.